JOB OVERVIEWTeam BC

Volleyball BC Team BC Programs work to identify, train, and develop athletes with high performance potential. Team BC programs provide a pathway to support the development of athletes in coaches to reach their full potential within the sports of indoor and beach volleyball.

2022 Team BC Pathway - Coaching Positions

The 2022 Team BC pathway of programs will feature both indoor and beach athlete development programming for athletes across multiple stages of Volleyball Canada's Long Term Development model (LTD). In addition to athlete development, an important component of the Team BC program is to support and develop coaches participating within the program. Volleyball BC is seeking coaches who are/have:

- Passionate individuals who aspire to contribute to the holistic development of athletes along the high-performance pathway;
- Demonstrate a growth mindset and interest and commitment to continuous improvement;
- Ability to build positive and productive relationships with others;
- Support and contribute to the athlete centered Team BC Culture and Environment;
- Practical knowledge of Volleyball Canada's Long Term Development model (LTD).

There are several coaching opportunities available at the various levels of Team BC program pathway in 2022. Volleyball BC encourages all coaches who are interested in supporting the development of future high-performance athletes in BC, as well coaches who are committed to their own professional development to apply to coach with Team BC today.

Interested applicants are encouraged to review program overviews and position outlines below.

Complete program details can be found on our website here: www.volleyballbc.org/team-bc/

TEAM BC SELECT

The Team BC Select is the pinnacle program for athletes in the Team BC Development Pathway. Athletes are identified that have future potential to excel and compete for Canada at international levels in the future.

The 2022 Team BC Select program will identify BC's top athletes (19U - 2003 or later), and select to train and compete at the Canada Summer Games. Athletes will train in a camp-based program for up to 20 days. Training is led by a full coaching staff and integrated support team to ensure athletes meet their full potential.

Team BC Select Coaches will work to support the development of BC's aspiring high-performance athletes using an athlete-centred approach that supports holistic development. Successful candidates will demonstrate an understanding of the high-performance pathway and will also have a combination of relevant coaching and/or playing experience.
